What does Your Life Reflect?

As we talk, walk and interact with others at home, at work and/or at school, what are our lives reflecting? The reality is that whether conscious or unconscious everything we do reflects the core beliefs that we hold in our hearts and souls. If we are certain, confident and understanding, that comes from a deep place that has been nurtured and developed for years. If you have low self-esteem, uncertainty and question things, that come from a nurtured and developed part of your heart and soul. Today we celebrate that what we say and do should have its origins from a deeper place within. What we say and do should come from the very graces that originate in and through our Baptism. As God the Father reminded Jesus that he was the "chosen", the "anointed one" (Mk 1: 14-20), so to does God the Father remind us that from the very beginning of our baptism until now, we are his appointed, his chosen ones. Like Jesus, we are called in simple/ordinary ways to be "a light for the nations, to open the eyes of the blind, to bring out prisoners from confinement and from the dungeon, those who live in darkness" (IS 42:7). We are called to be true to what is at our core - to live out of our baptismal promises by constantly putting sin behind and Christ Jesus before us. What does your life reflect? Hopefully, people can see in your words and actions a life deeply rooted in your baptismal promises.

Stewardship

Today we celebrate the Baptism of the Lord. The U.S. bishops pastoral on stewardship reminds us that Baptism gives all His disciples a share in His priestly works and calls them "to offer up the world and all that is in it—especially themselves—to the Lord of all."
